A game for 2+

The world is ending. Spend your last moments with your loved ones.

Requirements: A barrier, physical contact

Set-up

Position yourselves with a barrier separating you while still being able to touch. Could be a blanket, doorway, wall, chain link fence, anything that allows you to be together yet apart.

The world is ending.

Reach across the divide.

Link a finger together.

Take turns defining your relationship

Why is your relationship forbidden?

What brought you together regardless?

How do you steal time together?

How long have you been keeping this a secret?

Who knows? How did they find out?

What is keeping you apart right now?

Whenever you are ready (or not), let go. The world ends.
